TESTIMONIALS.
From Mr. JOHN J. MAHON, Capilla del Señor, June 29, 1881.—The dip which you sent me I used according to directions, and I can assure you that it gave the desired result. During four years of practical experience of curing scab in sheep, I have seen many specifics used, and I consider Gilliard's the only one that gives complete satisfaction. It improves the quality and promotes the growth of the wool. For efficiency, economy and facility of application, I prefer it to any dip I have used.
From Mr. JAMES M. THOMAS, Estancia Santa Ines, Monte, June 29, 1881.—Having given a good trial to Gilliard's Dip, I have much pleasure in bearing my testimony to its valuable quality as a Sheep Dip. It destroys all insect life with which sheep are infected, mixes readily in cold water, does not injure the hands, and softens all hard parts, I shall strongly recommend it whenever an opportunity offers. As regards the cheapness, it should command a good sale.
By using GILLARD'S SHEEP DIP the outlay will be repaid One Hundred-fold by the Improved Condition of the Sheep, and the increased Weight and Quality of the Wool. All Sheep owners should therefore try the experiment, if only on a small Flock.
NOTE—A sample drum will be supplied gratis to any Estanciero who is willing to give the Dip a fair trial and report on same

Presente
Dear Sirs
I bought from you a quantity of your 'Golden Fleece Dip' and have used it on my establishment in Mar Chiquita. It gives me great pleasure to inform you that I obtained the very best results with it, losing no animal and none of the men suffering who cured by hand. Its price is so economical likewise, that on all grounds I can warmly recommend it to every estanciero as the best remedy against scab.
Please fill the order at foot and believe me.

HAVAS' AGENCY

Rio Janeiro, 25th

Telegrams from Lisbon say election of Deputies on Sunday proved very favourable to Government. Of 147 elected the several opposition parties only count 25 votes. Except the candidates for Oporto, where there is a tie, and for Lisbon, where Professor Jose E Garcia was elected, all the Republican candidates were defeated.

IMMIGRATION.

The tide of Welsh immigration that has set in to the Plate is very remarkable. The Welsh people, as a community, have no greater 'locus standi' in this country than the Chubut colony. Were they as rich or as influential as the English, the Irish, or the Scotch, it would not be so surprising, the monthly arrival of large batches in Lamport and Holt's steamers Did the Arg. Government give them free passages out to the Plate, or send special agents to Wales to invite them to emigrate, one could better understand the movement, but none of our sheep-farmers or estanciero princes are Welshmen, and their foothold in this country is in a distant part where no other foreigner has as yet had the courage or the enterprise to make a start.

Strange fact: that the Irish sheep farmers, who as a class are richer than any immigrant class in this country, and much more independent than their countrymen of the same walk in life in any other country fed by immigration, have utterly failed to create a migratory flow from their native Island such as the hardy Welsh peasants of Chubut have now established; and the question becomes a severe one for us, to trace the causes which lead to such an important hegira of Welshmen to the Plate, when English, Irish and Scotch immigration to this country is nowhere. Within the last week we have seen 90 Welshmen started for the Chubut, with Mr Jones at their head, to settle on new lands in the Chubut valley, and make for themselves new houses and new farms, whilst a single Irish family that arrived out here at the same time, is still in this city unemployed.

The magnitude of the question assumes still greater importance when we consider that hardly has the steamer Villarino cleared from the Boca with 90 Welshmen, than the Euclid and the Bessel enter port with some 80 more Welshmen; and, let us for a moment suppose that these new arrivals were from Ireland instead of Wales, how different then would be the position. Our Welsh countrymen by the steamers Bessel and Euclid are all bound for the Chubut, where they have a common centre. The Government has to give them board and lodging here in town, a free passage down to Chubut, consign them to Mr. Jones, and instruct the 'agrimensor' to work out the lands for them to make their homes: but if these immigrants were Irishmen, it would become a Cabinet question how to settle with them. The Irish community is scattered over the whole province. The sheepfarmers, individually, are rich and independent, but collectively they are nowhere: and since both Governments, National and Provincial, are anxious to bring out Irish immigrants, and Dean Dillon has gone home on a special mission for that purpose, it does seem opportune to remark on the great necessity of forming some centre, like the Chubut colony, towards which the Irish immigration could converge.

If the Nationul Government has no other lands to dispose of save those in the Valley of the Chubut, at least steps might be taken to apportion some of the new lands in the upper part of that valley for an Irish colony, since we are unwilling to suppose that the lands to which the new Welsh colonists are going are better suited for Welsh than for Irish agricultural farmers.

The Irish colony in the River Plate needs a man like Mr. Jones to settle down there, look after his countrymen, start them in their farms, represent them with the Government, and supply their wants for the first year or so. We apprehend that some action should be taken in this matter, and the English merchants would much consult their own and their countrymen's interest by forming a committee for the purpose, and by means of deputation or otherwise impressing upon the Government the necessity of some method, some organization. In any way that our humble services can be of use we but too willingly offer them, and it is really impossible to suppose that the British community in the River Plate can be so utterly destitute of representation that a dozen good men and true cannot be found to join hands, put their shoulders to the wheel and accomplish something.

The papers received from Ireland by the Trent's mails give the following notice:—

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

Emigration to the Argentine Republic, Buenos Ayres. Emigrants, on arrival, are landed at the expense of the Government, and boarded and lodged free for five days, assisted to pass the Custom House, afforded every information to enable them to find employment, and finally sent free to wherever they elect to settle. All this done by National Government employees who speak all languages, the emigrant being free to take or reject any advice given to him: so that all intending emigrants can go to the Argentine Republic with perfect confidence, although they may have no relatives there, as they will meet, in all quarters of the Republic, public employess specially bound to watch over them till they learn the customs of the country.

The wages during the harvest, which lasts four months, are from 30 to 45 hard dollars (6 to 8 pounds sterling) per month, with board and lodgings (the hard dollar is worth 4s 2d English money).

The best time for farmers, agricultural labourers, indeed for all labourers to arrive there, is from October to January. Farmers with a capital of from 80 to 120 pounds sterling may go at any season of the year.

No country in the world offers greater advantages to the farmer and stock breeder.

The climate is temperate and healthy, land is cheap and fertile and can be worked all the year, as snow is unknown. There are immense tracts of pasture land, and boundless forests: every kind of stock can be had at lower prices than in any other country: there are numerous trunk railway lines, deep rivers, almost daily communication with Europe, institutions almost similar to those of the United States, and even more liberal for foreigners, who acquire land in fee.

Each of the thirteen Provinces of the Republic has passed special laws for the donation or sale of 'chacra' (small farm) lots near the towns, which can be purchased at equally moderate price and are given gratis in some provinces.

Price of Stock.

Horned cattle for breeding 1 pound 10 shillings per head.

Sheep 3 shillings and 6 pence per head.

Mares 15 shillings do.

NOTES FROM LONDON AND PARIS.

My last was written some time ago, on the eve of my departure for Madeira. I returned, thence in about 10 days, per steamship Lualaba, to Liverpool. On board this boat were Colonel Price and his staff, returning from Cape Coast Castle, whither they had gone to be in readiness for any of the little games King Coffee Calcali was expected to indulge in, consequent upon the sending of the 'gold axe.' It appears, however, that nothing was farther from the poor old nigger's mind than fighting. The gold axe was in reality sent as a token of friendship and good-will, and the whole row arose out of a stupid blunder made by an incompetent interpreter. The poor King, seeing his friendly mission sent back to him with a flea in their ear, naturally concluded that the British were bent on annexing his kingdom, and were only seeking a pretext to quarrel with him.

The blunder cost a lot of money, for besides the staff of officers above mentioned, one of the West India Regiments was ordered post haste to the coast. To the kindness and courtesy of two surgeons attached to Colonel Price's staff I probably owe my life, as I was taken dangerously ill on board the Lualaba, and the ship doctor was utterly incompetent.

London has at last two or three respectable restaurants and cafés, notably the Burlington, in Regent-street, kept by Blanchard, and the up-stairs dining-rooms of the Criterion, which are somewhat different from the wretched, stuffy holes, such as Simpson's and those kind of places, which people had to put up with in former days. The most remarkable difference, perhaps, is to be noted in the internal arrangements of the theatres. Ten years ago they would, for the most part, have disgraced a small provincial town: snuffy old women, in seedy black dresses, going about between the acts crying 'ginger-beer, lemonade, &c.;' in fact, more like two-penny gaffs than respectable theatres. Now the interior of all the principal London theatres beats that of the Paris houses, always excepting the Grand Opera, which, I fancy, will not be surpassed for the next few generations. Mapleson's grand new Opera House has been abandoned, as you probably know. Another feature is noticed at once by one who, like myself, had not been in London for ten years, viz., the great change in the style and tone of the pieces performed at the leading theatres. I have been amused at the profusion of 'double entendres' with which the majority of the pieces now being performed are filled; very neatly and artistically done, it is true, but quite as 'verde' as the most 'risque' French play. In some pieces even 'double entendre' is despised and plain language used. The adaptations of 'Olivette' and 'La Boulangére a des écus,' both of which pieces are having such a run at present, sound decidedly coarser and more 'verde' in the English adaptation than in the original French. The delicate semi-suggestions are evidently not understood by the major part of the audience, who only applaud vociferously when something broad enough to reach the dullest comprehension meets their ears. Pre-eminent amongst those who keep themselves free from even the suspicion of falling off in tone, are Messrs. Sullivan and Gilbert, at the Opera Comique, and Mr. and Mrs Bancroft at the Haymarket. 'Sobre gustos no hay nada escrito; therefore, I may, perhaps, be permitted to say that I consider Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft the best and most charming actor and actress in all London, 'sans exception.'

But the 25th of July is at hand and we must not miss the Trent. We are in luck, for we have the whole of her magnificent saloon at the disposal of about a dozen passengers—i.e. after leaving Lisbon. For the River Plate there are only Mr. Thomqson, Lieut, H. Lyon, on his way to join H.M.S. Rifleman, at Montevideo, and myself.

For the Brazilian ports we have several gentlemen connected with engineering and railway interests, and one or two merchants, also a distinguished Russian savant, Mr de Ryschkan, who has been in every conceivable and inconceivable part of the world, in pursuit of his favour. ite study—Botany. He has not yet explored the River Amazon, however, and is now bound for Rio de Janeiro, en route to perform that hitherto neglected little 'job'. His last exploration was the island of Madagascar. He has often been in South America before, and speaks with enthusiasm of the courtesy he met with from Mr P. Christophersen when last in B. Ayres.

From Southampton to Carril we had on board a young Argentine officer, who has been for some time travelling in Europe for pleasure, Sub-Lieutenant Ortiz Salvarezza, a charming young man and, for his age, one of the most accomplished linguists I have ever met. It was a pity he left us so soon. As we have only one lady in the saloon, and she is always sick, we have the ship to ourselves, and with the assistance of Mr Heasman, our genial purser, Mr Neilson, our distinguished 'medico', and the protecting countenance of our gallant Captain Hart-Dyke, we organize concerts in which the floating talent on board, led by our celebrated barytone and tenor, Messrs. Thompson and Lyon, and nobly seconded by a numerous and well-drilled chorus, nightly roll out waves of melody which considerably surpass the roll of the ocean as described by Byron. He should have made a voyage in the Trent with us before writing that stanza. The majority of the melodies which form our nightly programme partake somewhat of the comic vein, and generally conclude each verse with a neat and appropriate chorus, ranging in style from piano to fortissimo, especially the latter.

At Pernambuco I found Alfred Napoleon, flourishing like a green bay tree, and spent a pleasant musical evening with him and some gentlemen attached to the London and Brazilian Bank there. Alfred Napoleon has been most prosperous in Bahia and Pernambuco, but longs for Buenos Ayres, whither he means to return shortly. As he wisely remarks: there are only two cities in the world fit for a white man to live in; viz. Buenos Ayres and Paris.

I was amused at the rivalry displayed by Lisbon against the great capitals of Europe. Lisbon has enormously improved of late years and is now probably one of the prettiest towns of its size on the Continent. It is certainly the cleanest city in Europe except Paris and Brussels. But where the joke comes in is, that they have commenced building an Egyptian Obelisk at the entrance of the Passeio Publico. Paris has the needle Napoleon brought from Egypt and placed on the Place de la Concorde, London has the Cleopatra's ditto on the Thames embankment. New York has acquired the last one disposable, and Lisbon, not to be outdone, resolved to build a needle for herself. It is nov nearly completed, and bids fair to be more graceful and pleasant to look at than any of the genuine articles. The Obelisk in Paris has been partly restored and looks well; Cleopatra's Needle on the embankment forms a worthy pendant to the hideous griffin on the site of Temple Bar. The only defence of the Embankment Needle which I have heard attempted is that the balancing of that enormous weight on a narrow pedestal is a marvel of engineering skill. That, however, does not detract from its sublime ugliness, and as to the balancing, I recommended a visit to the rock of Tandil.

But as it is absurd to write notes from London and Paris when I am in reality bowling along between Bahia and Rio, I will dry up.

Yours,

W. H.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The news from Montevideo yesterday was all of a Balthasar kind—the whole city 'en fete' for the Suarez Centenary; flags, flowers and fireworks, Te Deums, lunches and balls, and nobody had time to see the handwriting of Latorre (an indifferent 'fist' he writes, like many great men) on the wall. It was a repetition of our San Martin and Rivadavia affairs here.

We have the queerest way under the moon of doing things here. Some of our colleagues lately called attention to the indecent pictures on match-boxes sold about the streets, and yesterday we saw a virtuous 'vigilante' gravely inspecting the stock in trade of a poor little boy, opposite the London and River Plate Bank. After mature consideration and many painful blushes the man in blue expropriated 7 boxes, 3½ paper dollars' worth, of matches, and 'hauled' the juvenile vendor. While fully approving the efforts of the Municipality to improve public morals, we doubt if the 'vigilantes' are competent for the very delicate duty, and would suggest a shorter and more effectual way of performing it, viz, inspecting the boxes on the premises of the manufacturer, as, we believe, all these indecent boxes are made here.

There is much curiosity to get hold of Mr Williams's secret for a Port. An engineer suggested to us yesterday that it might be the revival of an enterprise broached five years ago, to connect the Uruguay and Parana, at the Delta, by a dock 15 miles long, with a depth of 21 feet of water at all tides. This scheme is so dazzlingly 'big' that it ought to find many adherents here, where everything that glitters is taken for gold right off. But, perhaps, this is not Mr W's secret at all. In no place is a secret so hard to keep as in Buenos Aires, every wall in the place having ears as long as Asinus himself.

Mr Luis Roseron sailed for Europe in the Gironde, as agent for the Continental Exhibition and entrusted with very important business.

The French Government has ordered Count Amelot de Chaillou to report to it if there is to be a collection of the mineral products of this country at the Continental Exhibition, as, if so, two mining engineers will be sent out to report on it. This is really most important. The French will get the plums out of our mineral pudding if other nationalities do not look out. There are ever so many Gauls now prospecting in the Interior, looking out for 'bonanzas.'

Settlers in that 'God-forgotten' spot Bahia Blanca will be rather glad to hear that the Provincial Government is preparing horses and other materials to enable the police down there to make a general 'battue' of all the Indians, gauchos, beleadores, and other vagabonds who are making the south frontier so unpleasantly hot for the settlers of late.

The Grau French opera company will debut on Wednesday evening next in the opera of Mignon, which had such a prodigious run in London and Paris.

The Government will not listen to the petition of the Apothecaries' Society against the new order of the Board of Health compelling them to open their doors at any hour of the night for the sale of medicine. The President of the Board of Health insists on the measure, and quotes a recent case of a sick person who died before morning owing to an apothecary refusing to get out of bed to sell some necessary medicine for his relief. The healing art is a noble but onerous one.

The Prensa confirms our news of Latorre having been in this city. We know even the house he stopped at, but red hot pincers would not wring the secret from us.

It is now proposed to bring out a first-class French opera company and a Spanish zarzuela company to perform at the Continental Exhibition. The Grau company would answer well; it will be here in a day or two.

A Montevidean paper says that the losses of cattle in the partido of Rocha are truly tremendous, amounting on the average to 70 per cent, while on some estancias there is not a cow left.

At Baltar and Quesada's last furniture auction a woefully seedy old bed of the last century was the object of a keen competition between a curiosity collector and a member of the owner's family. Between them they raised the price to $5000 m/c., although $500 would have been outrageously dear for the article.

Our French subscribers appear in jovial spirits at the sweeping majority obtained by the Republicans in the elections at home. There is evidently no further chance for Legitimists, Orleanists, Bonapartisters any more kingcraft of any kind or degree in La Belle France. The fact should teach the triumphant party better taste than to be guilty of the vandalism of totally demolishing the historic palace of the Tuilleries, a measure which we see has been finally decided on. Some queer things have doubtless happened in that ancient palace, but it is connected with the most glorious days of France, and should be sacred. Posterity will never forgive the Republicans for demolishing instead of restoring the Tuilleries to its pristine splendour.

Mr Tornquist has just imported a wee Kerry cow (the only one as yet seet in this country) so remarkable for her wonderful milking powers that she could easily give the Almagro cow a tun and still beat her.

There is a move on foot to get all the river steamers to embark and land their goods and passengers at the Catalinas Mole. We applaud with both hands and feet. When ocean steamers now haul alongside this mole there can be no difficulty with the river steamers. It will be an immense advantage for the public to get rid of the inconvenience, danger and extortion of the small boat trips to the steamers. The manager of the mole holds a conference to-day on this important subject with the owners of river steamers.

'A la bonne heure!' The President of the Provincial Capital Committee has announced to Government that the investigations, explorations etc. will be complete within a few days, and the Report will be laid before the Executive within the appointed time.

Advices received yesterday from Rio Janeiro say that the Ferrari opera troupe has not pleased the Fluminense public over much.

The National Deputies passed on Wednesday the Bill granting 100,000 pats to the Continental Exhibition. This settles the cash part of the business, and everything will now go ahead.

The telegrams say that, at the review in Montevideo yesterday Gen. Santos, wore a sword worth 4000 pats presented to him by the officers of the army. The handle was a blaze of diamonds. The trappings of the General's horse and his uniform were valued at 2000 pats more. This beats even our gorgeous officers here. What a prisoner of war the General would make?

Mrs Romero Gimenez was stopped on board the Gironde on Wednesday, by Judge's order, for a small debt. Her friends immediately came forward with bail and she was allowed to proceed on her voyage.

The Minister of Marine has granted 'packet privileges' to the English steamship Northumberland.

The first prize for piano performance at the Conservatoire at Paris was carried off last month by a young Brazilian pupil named Carlos Mesquita.

Father Jordan S. J. will preach on Sunday next at the Cathedral, after the Mass at 1 o'clock.

The Razon of Azul says there is unutterable woe in commercial circles there ('y con razon') owing to the branch of the Bank being obliged to stop discounting, as the capital allowed it by the head office is not sufficient. One estanciero had to pay 10 per cent. to a private lender, as the Bank could not give him what he required.

Preparations for the Cattle Fair in Chascomus are being so actively pushed forward that it is said it will be commenced early next month. Judging from the demand for space, we can foresee that this fair will surpass any previous one in importance. Mr. Newton, chairman of the Fair Committee, has resigned his post in consequence of having been commissioned by the Provincial Government to go to Australia.

Poor Tamaguo, the tenor, was robbed the very day after his arrival in Rio, of two gold watches, a real gold chain and 300 francs, and the Rio police have failed to catch the thief.

The gold market ruled very hard to-day, and presented all the appearance of another squeeze as the end of the month; over a million one hundred thousand pats sold to-day, and still there were buyers. Gold opened at 25.65 cash, rose to 25.70, and closed at 25.65, cash sales 11,674. For end of month 920, 00 sold, opening at 25.60, rising to 25.70, and closing at 25.65. For Sept. 30th, the sales reached 150,000 at 25.50. For Nov., 60,000 at 25.45, and for Oct. 2e,000 at 25.45. Thus there was an advance in the rates all along the long line.

Cedulas ruled very quiet and very little business done, only two small lots for cash sold 24.00 at 99¾. For Aug. 25th 32,000 at 99½, and for Aug. 30th 20,000 at 99¼.

Nat. Bank Shares ruled a shade weaker; the second syndicate, they say, is getting out of the stock, and the third syndicate for Sept. speculation is being formed; the syndicate that made most money was the first, and it is by no means certain yet how the liquidation for the month will close.

The business in the shares to-day was so—

For cash	248	at 115¾
End month	1330	119-115¾
Sept. 30	5000	117-116½
Oct. 31	100	116½
Total sales	6578

Some of the large holders sold to-day, but the price of the stock rests now entirely on the price for end of Sept.

Letters from London per Iberia say that the heat is awful, every one leaving town. Argentine stocks in the ascendant. Mr Egerton's report on Republic published in the book and commented on by Economist. This paper of Mr Egerton's speaks most favorably of the Plate, and has produced a still better feeling towards everything Argentine. All our stocks up to the clouds.

The mail has brought out the prospectus &c. of the River Plate Trust and Loan Co.—a most important concern most successfully launched, and the following is the Board of management—

"The River Plate Trust, Loan and Agency Company, Limited, incorporated under the Companies' Acts. Capital, £1,000,000 stg., in 100,000 ordinary or A shares of £10 each, and 5,000 deferred or B shares of £5 each, which will be issued credited as fully paid up as hereinafter mentioned. The profits, after payment of a cumulative dividend of 6 o/o on the A shares, will be divided per share between the A and B shares without reference to the amounts paid up on each. First issue of 50,000 A shares at par, of which 20,000 have been already applied for, payable as follows:—

10s on Application
10s on Allotment

Prospectus—

"This Company has been formed for carrying on the River Plate Republics (comprising Buenos Aires and the Provinces of the Argentine Republic and the Republic of Uruguay) a Trust, Loan and Agency business on the principle of the well established Companies now carrying on a similar business in connection with the British Colonies, the U. States of America, &c., which in many instances pay dividends of from 10 to 15 per cent, besides the accumulation of large Reserve Funds, and whose shares command premiums of from 70 to 150 per cent, as appearing by the list printed at foot.

"The principal business of the Company will be the raising of money here on debentures and lending it again in the R. Plate at much higher rates of interest prevailing there, thus occupying the position of middle man between lender and borrower. The Company's borrowing powers are fixed at double the amount of the uncalled capital, thus enabling the Company to borrow and lend eight times the amount (£ 00,000) intended to be called up on the shares, so that a very small percentage of profit on the borrowed money (say $300,000) would ensure a large dividend on the shares. There is little or no risk in this class of business, as it is the custom in the R. Plate to lend on mortgage only one-half the value of the mortgaged property.

"The Directors, several of whom are connected with the R. Plate, are satisfied that there is a good opening for this Company's operations in that country, where the rates for loans on first mortgages are exceptionally high, the B. Aires State Mortgage Bank charging at present 8 o/o interest and 1 o/o commission for their advances, and the usual discount rates being from 7 to 9 o/o."

Gold at afternoon held the same, buyers 25,65, sellers 25.70 for end of month; it seems that there is a heavy 'desubierta' for the end of the month yet to be arranged.

National Bank Shares dropped up to four o'clock when two well known brokers began buying for September, which stiffened everything; one lot of 1,000 shares for Sept. was taken up at 116¾. So many outside holders have sold their stock that the weight of the stock on the market constantly increases, but men with ready cash and means do a capital business, buying for cash and selling for September and collecting the dividend. As the business has assumed this shape the market naturally hardens and finds ample support so long as good buyers are willing to pay the rates for September. Fully 5,000 shares sold at afternoon.

In Cedulas nothing whatever done, but sellers offering at 99¾ for end of month; yet many believe there will be the same corner as last month for the liquidation.

Mr Peart, from Entre Rios, was welcomed on 'Change, also Mr Heasman, purser of the Trent, and Dr Neild. Mr Garcao Jr., who arrived from Rosario, was welcomed, also Mr Marques, of Montevideo, and Mr Zumaran of same city. To-day being a holiday down there, no telegrams.

Viscount Mana has presented his accounts of the liquidation, and so well pleased are the creditors that they have approved all he has done and requested him to continue in charge of the liquidation. He has also been named Delegado of the Sociedad Pastoril, and at the meeting in Rio the same satisfactory course was adopted, which speaks for the high credit the creditors repose in Viscount Mana, which is in nothing misplaced.

The Bessel sails on Saturday for New York and loads in Brazil. To-day we received the American mails but hold the circulars for to-morrow.

The Archimedes takes a very full cargo, 1400 bales and a large number of dry and salted hides, maize, also 73 packages silver from Rosario, and some bonds or titulos from here.

But the full ship that cleared to-day was the Toro; people who saw her leaving the Boca had their eyes opened as to the new trade with the south, she had to leave both cargo and passengers behind. The Santa Rosa will be the next Bahia Blanca and San Blas mail.

The Bank rate to-day gave an exahange of 49¾, yet nothing doing, few takers.

Maize like Nat. Bank shares, is in demand; we hear of large sales, and prices are up 10 m/c.

The Euclid is fixed for Havre, to leave 7th Sept, has engaged almost vis a vis a few doors down, the new English banking Company, in front of Messrs Casey's called the River Plate Loan and Trust Company, whilst the great National Bank owns the grand old Alzaga corner, the finest site in this city. This property bought by Messrs. Carabassa and Co. was sold years ago for 140,000 mts gold. The property to-day, although revived, is yet far below those memorable rates.

Mr Gowland, the great comestible auctioneer, sold yesterday, by order of American Consul, American canvas at 10 and 11, and galvanized iron at 117, both for account of underwriters, and at higher rates than in the market. So much for Gowland.

Advices from Santa Fe about the wheat crop brought down to-day by gentlemen from Rosario truly splendid.

The London wool auction opened to-day. Nothing in as yet about it.

Some small lots of wool sold this morning at 60 to 70, inferior wools.

The broker who lost a parcel with twenty-five thousand paper dollars in Calle Parque to-day wishes to express his best thanks to the English gentleman who picked it up and immediately handed parcel and money to the owner. Such deeds shine.

The news from London is something splendid, but we are so pressed for time and room, that we must hold much over for to-morrow. Some of the first men in London admit now that this country is fast becoming a second United States; our subscription list abroad never at any previous period extended as now, and an English engineer in London writing to his friend out here says:—"I receive the Standards regularly, and read them with interest; tell Mr Mulhall, that his paper is much admired by several of my friends, to whom I at times show it." Our best thanks to that engineer. Every man in Buenos Aires who has watched our views on this country must, spite of everything, admit we were right.

Our special Boca correspondent reports the following:—

"The American brigantine Etta Whitemore, Capt. Wright, also at same wharf ready to discharge general cargo.

"The Amer. barque Archer, Capt. Mitchell, consigned to C S Roberts, Esq., discharging lumber at Casares's wharf.

"The Amer. brigantine O B Stillman, Capt. Race, also consigned to C S Roberts, Esq., waiting for tide to proceed to Barracas.

"The Norwegian barque Nordeap taking in ballast.

"The Norw. barque Onkel Cristian hauling out with bones.

One of the most important of all questions for farmers in this Province is the refining of coarse pasturages, hard grass lands, and making them suitable for sheep. The usual method has been to keep a large quantity of cattle and mares on the land, and after a few years put on flocks of sheep; but such a method is both tedious and uncertain, and Mr Kemmis, of Las Rosas, Santa Fe, has experimented with much success in another line. He ploughs up the open camp and sows a mixed crop of wheat and alfalfa; the result has proved so favorable that the wheat has more than covered all expenses, leaving fine crops of alfalfa to repay the experiment. Mr Edward Casey, who has already given proof of his enterprise and success in everything connected with camp development and improvement, is now about to identify his name with one of the greatest and most beneficial moves in the country. The magnificent lands of the Venado Tuerto are to be refined, and if success awaits this grand move of Mr Casey we shall soon have all the 15,000 m/c pasto rent paying farmers, starting for outside, and the whole country ploughed up so as to supply soft grass lands for the sheep. Mr James Turner, an experienced farmer, has purchased of Mr Casey one of the four leagues of land he reserved at the auction. Mr Casey arranges with Mr Turner to have part of his land ploughed up and refined, and the latter guarantees that by this time next year he will have as good sheep land as any in Lujan. Mr Sewell starts for Rosario next week to send out the building and fencing material. He will charter all the bullock carts up there, and before a month is about 40 ploughs will be revolutionising Venado Tuerto. With deep interest we watch this great step of Mr Casey. Let it succeed, and in another year the sheepfarmers will be marching with their ploughs to Italo and Gainza. In England the native grass is coarse and strong and useless, and all the grasses to pasture cattle are artificial. Here in this country we are so accustomed to plenty of fine soft natural grasses that people have marked coarse grasses for cattle and fine for sheep. But the fine soft lands are now exhausted, 15,000 m/c per annum is paid by the farmers for 100 squares of sheep land. A rent so monstrous sweeps from the poor farmer all the yield of his flock. Things in this line on the camps in favorite partidos are getting as bad as in Ireland; meanwhile Mr Casey strikes out in the right direction, and we have more faith in his forty ploughs than even in the paper money.

On Friday, next week, Messrs Bullrich & Co. will sell 16 splendid yearlings Negrette from the cabaña Rivadavia at Marcos Paz. We recommend farmers and estancieros not to lose this opportunity of securing some of the soundest and best native reared pure blood Negrettes. The animals can be seen at Bullrich's from Monday next.

To-morrow a meeting of agents of steamers will be held at the Capitania; it is called by Mr C Mansilla, our popular Port Captain, in order to make some arrangements for the steamers coming alongside the Catalinas mole, and landing their passengers. A move in the right direction.

Some of the London papers call special attention to the premium on gold in B. Aires having fallen to 2 o/o, and speak in the most complimentary terms of the country.

The Brit. schooner Cape of Good Hope, arrived in Montevideo, has brought 41 ostriches; she lost 20 on the voyage.

The Silex, Capt. Golding, entered this morning crowded with passengers, chiefly these who arrived out in the Iberia. We return our best thanks to Capt. Golding for his kind attention to the three nuns who came up in his steamer last night; they come from Paris for the Irish Convent in Calle Rio Bamba.

The latest London papers are by Iberia, 3rd August. Argentine stocks are very high; we extract the following:—

"Messrs I. Thomson T Bonar & Co. will pay the half-yearly dividend of the Consolidated Uruguay Six per Cent Loan of 1871, due on 1st Aug., at the rate of 2½ o/o per annum. The coupons must be presented some days previous to payment.

"At the meeting yesterday of the East Argentine Railway Co., Limited, the report was adopted, and a dividend of 30s per share was declared, making a return of £2 per share during the current year. The net profits on the working of the line last year amounted to about £8,000, as compared with about £1,200 in the preceding year.

"The Directors of the Buenos Aires (New) Gas Co., Limited, announce that they are prepared to receive applications for allotments at par of an issue of £70,000 Six per Cent Debentures, being balance of a total authorised issue of £200,000, secured by mortgage to trustees in London of the entire property of the Company. The Debentures are to bearer for £100 and £50 each, repayable in 1895, with interest coupons attached, payable in London half-yearly, on 1st January and 1st July. The accounts of the Company for 1880 showed a net profit of £3,510 10s 3d. A dividend of 5 o/o for that year was paid upon the share capital of the Company, and £1,158 18s 8d was placed to a renewal fund, and undivided profits amounting to £11,472 0s 11d (including previous balance) were carried forward to the current year. It is added that the business of the Company is rapidly developing.

"The offices of the Buenos Aires Great Southern Railway Co., Limited, have been removed from 4, Great Winchester-street, to 7, Finsbury-circus, London, E.C.

"In Banks, a rise of ¼ in English of River Plate to 2¼, 2½."

Circulars were received to-day, announcing that Messrs Galli Hermanos, of Montevideo, have opened a branch house here.

Our very clever German correspondent favors us with the following letter, which to be rightly understood must be read at the mole head at daybreak where our mystical friend with a large pitchfork may be seen trying to turn the current of the river:—

B. Aires, Aug. 23rd, 1881.

Dear Standard,

Since I read your article "The Crops" I am dreaming every night that the whole 'Sierras' from Curumalan to the Laguna de los Padres consist of pure linseed.

Just fancy 5 million arrobas (half million £ worth), as you say!

I congratulate 'troperos', railways, lightermen, and shipbrokers; they must take care in time to provide sufficient accommodation for a new export article, which equals in weight 16o,ooo bales of wool.

As you state to have "purposely avoided any statement that appeared exaggerated to you" perhaps the crop will turn out much larger still.

Now if you want to gain flax you will clear still more profit out of it, but you will loose the seed, as the Belgian system to gain both is too difficult to be practised in this country.

In Germany the flax growing is principally estimated because it gives constant work to a great many people by ploughing, manuring, and constant cleaning the field of weeds, and afterwards by the preparing for the machinery. These people are well contented if they gain 5 to 10 Silber Groschen equal to $1 to 7 m/c per day, and in spite of the machinery a great number of men is required during the harvest, for, if the same is not effected quickly the plant becomes over ripe and good for nothing.

As long as there are not sufficient hands for curing the scab of our sheep, there wont be any for the flax.

It would be interesting if your friends, Messrs S, would state if they have any machines for what is styled "roasting of the flax", and for bleaching it; some years ago none were invented as yet; this is an important item on account of the great many hands required for it.

By the way, their namesake, Mr S., the old gentleman who invented gunpowder, when trying to make gold by alchemy, do you think he would have bothered his head so much about the matter if he had known how easy it is to make people believe that paper is worth gold by writing a few leaders?

It requires a good deal of study to find out which sort of soil is adequate for flax, and besides in Germany the same field is only used for it after 6 to 8 years again, as the plant has very few leaves and many small roots, and lives principally by what it sucks out of the soil, which needs therefore to be well manured.

Furthermore, the plant requires so peculiar (damp, not wet) weather, and its preparation is so difficult that we have to see how many people will continue after trying it once, and if they have to draw the water for preparing the flax they will never think of anything else besides gathering the seed, which is of little value.

As regards wheat you ought not to forget that North of the Salado it is exposed to the 'langosta', and that the weather is sometimes too dry and sometimes too wet, principally in the North of this Province and Sta. Fe. I should have more confidence in the crop, if there was more wheat planted South from the Salado, like in Olavarria or Chuput, but the greater part is planted in the Sta. Fe colonies and alongside our railways. I sincerely hope there will be some increase in the agricultural production, and principally in that of wheat, as the population of this Province amounts now to ..... 610,000 souls, meanwhile it was in 1869 .... 495,000 souls.

Surplus .... 115,000 souls.

As this represents 115,000 new empty stomachs, how would they manage to live without an increase of wheat, as the number of cattle has been gradually decreasing in spite of the consumption of this city having fallen off 100,000 head per year (4 to 500 animals daily against 7 to 800 before the yellow fever).

I do not see anything extraordinarily prosperous in the matter; it would be very afflicting indeed, if it was not so.

If maize can be exported I generally pity the growers, it proves that prices are so low that it does not pay them very well.

As Tucuman is by far the principal province for sugar growing, and you quoted the other day from the Razon, of Tucuman, that half the crop there is lost by the frost; if this turns out to be as 'right' as the name of the newspaper, I must consider your leader somewhat exaggerated as regards sugar.

I agree with you that the black board of the Bolsa is no standard of the state of the country, but the low exchange in spite of loans and high wool prices, shows better what our balance of trade will be than the superficial knowledge, which as you say "a trip through the Provinces" would afford.

Yours truly,

GERMAN SUBSCRIBER.

THE DUKE OF ARGYLL AND THE IRISH LAND QUESTION

To the Editor of The Times

Sir

The Duke of Argyll in his speech last night in the House of Lords thought it worth while to refer to a statement which I made many weeks ago in the course of a speech at Liverpool on the Irish Land Question.

I think it would have been more fair if the Duke had stated that when he wrote to me upon the subject and asked for my authority, I replied that I had repeated from recollection a statement made in the House of Commons in the debate on the second reading of the Land Bill by an eminent Irish member from the province where the case was said to have occurred.

The statement was unchallenged in the long debate which followed. The Duke says that I ought to have applied to the landowner concerned in the case before quoting it. He will permit me to explain that the case stood uncontradicted in the evidence of the Bessborough Commission, although the Secretary of that Commission had in the usual course, as he informs me, sent the evidence to the landowner, and afforded him the opportunity of explanation. It appears that the landowner in question was willing to give to the Duke of Argyll an explanation which he neglected to give to the Commission. Under these circumstances, and as I refrained from mentioning the names of any persons concerned, I think it will not be considered that I was open to the imputation either of negligence or unfairness in alluding to the case.

I am also surprised that the Duke should have thought it worth while to cull an isolated passage from a long-distant speech of mine, when he must be well aware that in all I have said and written on the subject of the Irish land question I have as a general rule, refrained from relying on the evidence given by the Irish tenants before the Bessborough Commission. The 500 tenants who made complaints were contradicted by almost as many landowners or land agents. To ascertain the truth in specific cases in this conflict of evidence, I have always felt, would be a difficult matter, and would require separate investigations, involving minute and intricate points, often extending over years. If, as the Duke of Argyll appears to have done, we reject as untrustworthy the evidence of the 500 tenants, and accept as conclusive the denials of landowners or their agents, we may very easily arrive at the conclusion that there have been no cases of hardship and that there is no justification for legislation.

It has appeared to me, however, that in the evidence before the Bessborough Commission of landowners and land agents themselves, and of Judges and many other independent witnesses, we have abundant testimony corroborating the general case of the Irish tenants, and that we might leave out of consideration as unproved the whole of the evidence of the tenants on specific cases, and yet have overwhelming proof of the necessity for legislation for their protection.

It cannot be said that in this respect the Bessborough Commissioners were prejudiced, or that they examined only selected witnesses; for the evidence of this kind is strongest from those land agents who were specially recommended to the Commission by the Committee of Irish Landowners as suitable witnesses. But I would venture to point out that the evidence of this character given before the Duke of Richmond's Commission by landowners, land agents and Judges, which the Duke of Argyll has wholly ignored, is even stronger and more exclusive, because it was more elaborated and more closely tested by cross-examination. This evidence should be read as a whole. It cannot fail to bring conviction. With your permission, I will give one extract only from a witness whose evidence has not hitherto received the attention it deserves—Colonel King-Harman, the owner of 70,000 acres, and the honorary secretary of the Committee of Irish Landowners. It is as follows:—

"Has not the rise of rent on the part of new purchasers of estates sold by the Encumbered Estates Court given rise to great discontent in Ireland? I think that it is the sole reason of the rise of discontent. In point of fact, the purchasers under the Encumbered Estates Court have very generally ignored the improvements made by the tenants. They have very often gone upon a very simple principle indeed, and that is, that they could get a certain percentage for the money laid out. I know the case of an English gentleman who purchased property in Galway and Roscommon, and all his instructions to his agent were to increase the rent 15 per cent. He never went on the land, and never saw the people, but his instructions were to increase the rent, that being a fair remuneration in his opinion for money laid out on the purchase.

"But have not the land jobbers raised it beyond that?—Far beyond that. I merely instance this as a speculation in what you call a respectable class of life. Perhaps 'respectable' is not the word; but if you go from the higher class to the lower class in a small town, those who keep publichouses, or village usurers, or who combine the two trades, those men invariably raise their rents to a frightful pitch. In point of fact, they will screw the last farthing; there is nothing that the poor people fear so much as the land getting into the hands of those people.

"The action of these land jobbers has been to appropriate to the landlord the improvements made by the tenant?—Certainly.

"Have you known many cases in which rents have been raised?—I have known a good many cases such as I have described just now, where the local publican or usurer has bought land, and there I never saw an opportunity missed of raising rents. I have not seen it on large properties.

"And probably the man whose rent would be raised and the men most likely to pay would be the improving man?—Certainly.

"Could you conceive anything more fatal than that to a peasant tenantry?—I cannot conceive anything worse; it is not only fatal to the men on the townland, but its bad effects go far and wide, frightening some and giving excuse to others not to improve their farms, for they say 'We have an instance of a land owner raising his tenants' rent because he improved his farm.'

I commend this passage to the Duke of Argyll in his search for truth and in his desire to refute the slanders against Irish landowners. Considering the vast extent of property sold during the last 30 years by the landed Estates Court, it seems to me to be eminently calculated to 'inflame the passions of Ireland.' It illustrates what was said to the Bessborough Commission by Mr Murphy, the agent for very large properties in the North of Ireland:—

"There are instances where estates have been most generously managed and where the tenants lived as happily as possible under the existing landlord. But when another landlord came into possession all that was changed; 'another King arose who knew not Joseph.'

It may be presumed that it was evidence of this kind, not that of tenants, which led the majority of the Duke of Richmond's Commission to the conclusion 'that many tenants in Ireland have had their rents raised in consequence of improvements,' and which led Mr Kavanagh, on the other Commission, to change his opinion as to the grounds for discontent in Ireland and to admit that the tenants have cause for complaint.

The Duke of Argyll, however, appears to have disregarded all this class of evidence. In the serene atmosphere of the House of Lords,

"From heaven or nearer
"He pours his full heart
"In profuse strains of unpremeditated art;"

but his altitude is so great that he cannot see what is patent to most of us. He believes that the conclusions of the two Commissions are unfounded; that the Irish tenants have no grievance; that there has not been a single case of unjustifiable rent-raising or of appropriation of tenant's interests since 1870; that the Ulster members, acting under the instructions of the landowners of that province in support of the Land Bill, are entirely mistaken in their views as to the necessity for legislation; and that the Government and a majority of two to one of the House of Commons are legislating under total misapprehension of the facts of the case and of the real position of the Irish tenants.

I am yours faithfully,

G. Shaw-Lefevre.
